

MRS. LINCOLN'S FRIENDS CONGRATULATE HER NOW

Vermont Woman Tells Of Her Wonderful Restoration To Health Since Taking Tanlac—Gained Ten Pounds

"Just a few months ago my friends were all sympathizing with me on account of my ill health, but they are now congratulating me on my wonderful recovery," said Mrs. D. E. Lincoln, of Ira, Vt., wife of a prominent farmer who was also a notable horse breeder. She is now in the best of health and is enjoying life to the full.

"Really, I never expected to be as well any more as I am since taking Tanlac. For two years my stomach was so disordered I suffered constantly from indigestion and my appetite was gone. He also suffered from constipation and couldn't walk even a few steps without getting out of breath.

"My nerves were so upset any little noise would almost set me wild and I slept but little at night. I got so weak and run down I didn't see how I could last much longer, and my husband was very much worried over my condition.

"But Tanlac helped me right from the start and since I finished my fifth bottle two months ago I haven't had a trace of my troubles. I have a fine appetite now and can eat just anything I want and never feel a touch of indigestion.

"I am no longer nervous and sleep just like a child. I have gained ten pounds in weight, can walk any distance and never get tired or out of breath and feel better than I have for years and years. There are no words of praise too strong for me to give Tanlac."

TANLAC is sold in St. Johnsbury by Landry's Drug Store, and in West Burke by Chas. H. Coburn, and in Lyndonville by Edmund's Pharmacy, in Danville by J. W. Ellis.

The non-advertisers are good fellows. But it has never been reported that the violet was elected as queen of the flowers.

People who have a strongly competitive spirit, who are confident in their ability to give exceptional service, are almost invariably good advertisers.

They are never satisfied to sit down in a business and take what comes to them without effort. They reach out and try to win a leading position by superior merit.

The Caledonian-Record, desiring to do justice to the splendid business firms of Northeastern Vermont, whose announcements fill its advertising columns, will present a series of tabloid editorials in this column on "The Psychology of Advertising."

It will set forth some convincing reasons why you can depend upon the merchants whose advertisements appear in this newspaper, to give the best possible service to the public.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for cholera.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years, and colonel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing, vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar coated, olive-colored tablets. They "crack the bowels and liver to act normally." They never force them to unnatural action.

Have you a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. One and 25c.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Guild
Receive Congratulations of Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper J. Guild, long residents of St. Johnsbury, observed their 50th wedding anniversary at their home on Belvidere street on Wednesday, November 24. Owing to Mr. Guild's failing health it was not deemed advisable to hold a reception at the home and in view of the fact that only a few immediate friends and relatives of the couple were reminded of the date, the celebration was an extremely quiet one. Except for a small number of close friends who brought their congratulations in person, the congratulatory messages were mailed or telephoned to the couple.

In addition to the many letters and cards that came in the mail there were several unique and useful gifts from friends and relatives. An especially interesting present was a pretty square box inside of which were five $10 gold pieces of 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914 and 1915 laid in five holes just the size of the coin. It came from their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Willis G. Guild of Brookline, Mass. Mr. Guild is a wholesale druggist with headquarters in Boston. He and Mrs. Guild visited his parents here a short time ago and his business would not allow him to get away again so soon unless it was for just an overnight visit and they did not think it practical to make such a short stay.

Mrs. Guild was born in Waterford in 1850, the daughter of John and Persis Brown. Her christian name is Ada. Mr. Guild is a native of Fairlee and was born there in March, 1845. He was the son of Israel and Sarah Guild. The Guilds were married in Lyndon in 1870, the occasion being a double wedding. At the same time, Mr. Guild's brother, Willis, took as his bride, Miss Martha Chase of Lyndon. When his wife died a few years later, Willis Guild married Miss Ella Brown, a sister of Mrs. J. J. Guild. Mr. Guild died several years ago.

All of Mr. Guild's relatives are dead and Mrs. Guild has but two immediate members of her family left. They are two sisters, Mrs. Hattie King of Roxbury, Mass., and Mrs. Ella Guild of Woburn, Mass. Out of six brothers and sisters in Mr. Guild's family and seven in Mrs. Guild's family that grew up and were married none lived to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Guild, who was a carriage maker by trade, served 20 years in the pattern room at the Fairbanks-Morse Company's plant here, being forced to quit his work about 18 months ago on account of his poor health. He is a holder of the Fairbanks' gold medal for 25 years of continuous service, which was presented him recently. In his home hangs a large handsome framed picture of himself, the photograph being surrounded by 70 pennies, a gift from his shop mates on his 70th birthday which was celebrated 5 years ago last March.

Mr. Guild got his early training in the carriage business in West Fairlee where he overworked for a few years later coming to East Corinth where he remained for 14 years. He then removed to South Ryegate where he
